

A woman with dark hair, wearing a blue saree with a subtle pattern and a gold border, stands outdoors. She is looking directly at the camera with a neutral expression. The background consists of out-of-focus trees and foliage, suggesting a park or garden setting. The lighting is soft, likely from the late afternoon or early morning.

What inspires me is a sense of urgency to do something of meaning within the very short role we play. To be driven by purpose and passion in what we do. To be able to make a difference to the lives of the people around us. If we are able to add some value then, to my mind, it's a few nano seconds well spent in the universe. To tread a path that I can look back on with the conviction and belief that I have made some difference in the larger scheme of things.
